BRINGING OUT THE BEST IN XLM

The Pure Stellar Whitepaper

Abstract

The world today has many problems, and yet many of the problems in the world today can be fixed. Solutions are not elusive - what is required is the motivation, support and commitment to manifest that solution. When just one person understands that the union of strategy and enthusiasm can change the world, everything becomes possible. The Pure Stellar team believe in the best of humanity. This charitable project, facilitated through the Stellar Blockchain, aims to build a community of like-minded people, good-natured and God-fearing, with the long-term mission of:

- Establishing infrastructure projects to alleviate homelessness and food poverty
- Supporting struggling individuals and families through specific and relevant practical means
- Creating teaching materials and written literature to equip people with the tools for personal development

Who We Are

Although Pure Stellar is a new charitable organisation, its inception has been eagerly planned for and dreamt about for a very long time. The team at Pure Stellar have accumulated decades of first-hand experience in pastoral care, community engagement, working with young and/or vulnerable persons, social projects and social care, as well as management within one of the largest and most influential global businesses. The Pure Stellar team is perfectly positioned to implement these projects, with strategy and enthusiasm.

The Stellar Blockchain

Humanitarian and charitable work have not frequently overlapped with the digital cryptocurrency domain. In this, the Pure Stellar team believe that we are early pioneers. Blockchain technology is only going to advance within our lives, and we are convinced that building our projects on Stellar XLM Lumens is setting us up for success. The Stellar Blockchain is completely transparent and offers full financial accountability. Other global projects have chosen to build with Stellar for this very reason, as well as the enormous present and future potential for growth in this Network.

The Next Steps

In order to prepare for the vital work that is in our hearts to see manifested in the world, the Pure Stellar team will begin issuing collectable tokens on an XLM-native cryptocurrency wallet, starting with Lobstr. More information about Stellar XLM Lumens and the Lobstr wallet can be found on our website at pure-stellar.com/about. Whilst these are collectable tokens, we have created them to a high standard and in limited, locked quantity, to ensure the supply can never be diluted. We are confident that as the Pure Stellar community grows, so will the value of these collectable tokens grow. Pure Stellar's collectable tokens will be released throughout Q3/Q4 of 2021 in order to generate funding for the infrastructure, community, social and educational projects scheduled to launch in Q1/Q2 of 2022.

Let's work together and manifest the solution.

Warmest regards,

The Pure Stellar Team
